ONLINE SAFETY

In this half-termly newsletter we want to keep you informed of the latest online safety updates, as well as sharing information with you about how to keep your children safe online. It is vital that you know what to do if you have any concerns about your child's or another child's online activities.

HACKED GAMING ACCOUNTS

Lots of money moves around popular online games and they have become profitable targets for cyber criminals. When your online gaming account is compromised it is critical to act fast.

ONLINE IDENTITY

Who we are in the real world is not always who we are online, but our online identity is important for a multitude of different reasons, e.g. risk management, employment. Internet Matters and Dr. Linda Papadopoulos have a series of 6 short videos plus some guides which discuss the pressures that children face online and developing their online identity.

ONLINE WELLBEING TIPS

Take care with the information that you share.

Ensure you give yourself a break from technology before bedtime!

Avoid comparing yourself to others you may see online.

HOW MUCH SCREEN TIME?

It is important that we equip our children with the tools to navigate the online world. It is also important that children can open and honest with the adults in their lives around any issues they may be having. At the following link you will find some resources, games and guides that you can use together with your child.
