A Message from Miss Pitts

This week we have spent some time updating our whole school displays for Reading and Geography. It has been interesting to hear the discussions the pupils have had with each other about the books they have already read this year in their class after looking at the Reading display; and sharing where they have visited or have plans to visit after looking at the Geography display.

From this week, we will be sharing the attendance of each class on the weekly newsletter. Please have a look at the attendance for your child's class below. Our aim is for all classes to achieve 97% or above by the end of the year and your help is vital in us getting there.
